

I am opposed to any further weakening of FCC rules that help preserve competition among owners of the media in America. I expect the FCC commissioners will serve the public in this matter and not make rules changes that will enable further consolidation of media ownership.